Our Mission: To Seek, Know, Love and Serve Christ in all Persons and in all Creation

Ramblings from the Rev...

Run while you have the light of life, that the darkness of death may not overtake you
(John 12:35)

As the cool morning air made the mists rise and dance over Rainy Lake in an ethereal harbinger of shorter days and colder nights, I found myself watching those last few straggling Canadian geese. Most of their compatriots have left already. The loons left weeks ago, fleeing our increasingly dark days and the inevitable coming freeze. These honking, swaggering characters will join them soon; their own dynamic V chasing the longer light, the warmer days, running (in an aerial, goosey sort of way) while they have the light, running for the light. I stood still there in the golden light of that beautiful misty morning. I stood still mostly so those soon-to-be-former avian neighbors wouldn't take an active, aggressive dislike to my presence. They can get cranky in the morning. Well, they can get cranky anytime really.

I stood still because of the geese, but it gave me a minute. A quiet minute to think about what it means to run, run for the light of life, with the light of life, within the light of life. Sometimes running actually means being still. Sometimes it means to help, to heal, to give, to pray, to vote, to shout, to search, to forgive, to repent. But sometimes it just means to be still. To be still in wonder of God's creation and know that the darkness of death is never the last word. To be still and know that God is God.

In God's Holy Love,

Rev Dr Sam
